Ahwatukee Trail List

The South Mountain trails I actually hike + love.

One of my favorite things about living in Ahwatukee is how quickly I can go from home to trail. These are a few of the trails I actually hike—and a few of my favorite ways to get outside and enjoy where I live.

THE TRAIL LIST

01 Desert Classic

EASY–MODERATE • FLEXIBLE DISTANCE

This is the one I'm on most. I live about half a block from an entrance, so it's my easy go-to when I just want to get outside.

· Dog-friendly on leash

02 Telegraph Pass

MODERATE • ~2.3 MI OUT-AND-BACK

Real views without driving across town — the first stretch is paved, so it's an easy start.

· Leashed pups welcome · Desert Foothills Trailhead

03 Mormon Trail

MODERATE • 1.1 MI TO THE SADDLE

Feels very Ahwatukee — mountains, desert and neighborhood life all right there.

· Rocky in spots, watch their paws · 8610 S. 24th St.

04 Beverly Canyon

MODERATE • 1.7 MILES

Easy to jump on when I just want to get outside without making a whole event of it.

· Some rocky, steep stretches · 8800 S. 46th St.

05 Pima Wash + Marcos de Niza

EASY • UNDER A MILE

My go-to when I want the dogs to burn a little energy without overthinking it.

· Flat & easy on paws · 4500 E. Pima Canyon Rd.

06 National Trail

CHALLENGING • FLEXIBLE DISTANCE

For the mornings I want a bigger view and a bigger workout — Phoenix's best-known trail.

· Shared with mountain bikers

Thinking about calling Ahwatukee home?

I live here, work here and hike here. If you're trying to figure out which little pocket of Ahwatukee feels like you, I'd love to help.
